

Investors for Social Businesses

Below is list of GLOBAL investors that are looking to invest in social businesses.

- Ananda Impact Ventures is a leading social investor in Europe that invests in entrepreneurs who build impact driven companies and address education, health, consumption and the ageing population.
- European Venture Philanthropy Association (EVPA) is an association of organizations practicing social investment and helps social entrepreneurs that are promoting innovative ways to tackle social and collective needs.
- Put Your Money Where Your Mouth/Meaning Is Company (PYMWYMIC) is a community of funders who invest in social entrepreneurs that seek to conserve and restore ecosystems while generating financial return.
- Incito Ventures is a female-focused investor group and incubator that dedicates social impact funds to support female social entrepreneurs.
- Acumen advocates the idea of patient capital and invests in social entrepreneurs that tackle problems of poverty.

Investors for Social Businesses

Below is list of GERMAN investors that are looking to invest in social businesses.

- The Financing Agency for Social Entrepreneurship (FASE) supports selected social entrepreneurs in raising growth capital and connects them with investors and financiers across the entire spectrum.
- BonVenture invests in social entrepreneurs, at their early or growth stages, who solve pressing social or ecological problems and wish to increase their social impact.
- BayStartUP is a Bavarian institution that prepares startups and social entrepreneurs for investors talks and connects them with investors and business angels.
- Angel Funding Germany is a cross border initiative connecting growth companies to German business angels and venture capitalists in one of the following sectors: ICT, Life Sciences, Medtech, Health, Agro/Food or Cleantech.
- BlueYard is an early-stage fund based in Berlin that invests in businesses that are working toward the decentralization of markets, the democratization of capabilities and the liberation of data.

